MAY RETURN AS A FEDERAL PRISONER

WARSHP WANTED TO BRING BACK BANKER STENSLAND
FROM MOROCCO.

ADVISABILITY OF THIS COURSE POINTED OUT

Fugitive Might Try to Escape During Journey Through Europe—Capture of Alleged Forger and Embezzler
Made at Tangier.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A demand on United States authorities for a warship to bring Paul O. Stensland, the captured president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, to this country from Tangier, Morocco, was framed Tuesday by Assistant State's Attorney Barbour, who sent it to Gov. Deeney, following a series of communications between the state executive and Acting Secretary of State Adee. Mr. Barbour urged the seeming peril of bringing Stensland across foreign countries, where the prisoner might balk suddenly at the prospect of returning, and of meeting with the abuse and disgrace incident to the situation. Moreover, Mr. Barbour fears that Stensland might try to kill himself, and, taking all these things into consideration, he points out with vigor the advisability of having Stensland a federal prisoner on a United States warship.

Attorney General Stead and Assistant State's Attorney Barnatt were busy Tuesday preparing a petition to President Roosevelt asking him to see that the Moroccan government was speedily besieged to turn over the prisoner to United States agents without trouble. The petition will be forwarded to Washington, along with other documents, including bench warrants, etc.

Concerned Over Deposit.
The state department is more greatly concerned over the steps taken to tie up a deposit of money which had been made in the Comptoir National d'Escompte, at Tangier by Stensland than with the extradition of the fugitive banker himself, according to a press dispatch. Acting Secretary of State Adee is giving the question his personal attention.

It is the impression that no international complications will arise if authorities quickly kidnapped Mr. Stensland and returned him to this country for trial, but it is entirely a different question when it comes to the recovery of money deposited in a foreign bank regardless of whether that money was stolen or not. There are certain questions of international law involved which must be settled before the deposit can be gained for the creditors of the defunct Chicago bank. The relations between the United States and Morocco are not so clearly defined as between this country and nations of continental Europe, and therefore the procedure is indefinite.

The deposit is reported to be about $12,000, and it is said Stensland may also have other funds in foreign banking concerns.

Guimere Aids Captors.

While the state and government officials are busy on this side of the sea Samuel R. Guimere, minister to Morocco, is trying to make easy the road of Stensland's captors. He has instructions to leave it, in the absence of extradition treaties, the Sultan, as an act of grace and without promise of reciprocity, will deliver Stensland to the Americans.

When Stensland was captured at the British post office in Tangier he was attaching his name to a request to have his mail forwarded to Mogador, Morocco, a little town on the north African coast, seldom visited by tourists. He was about to sign "Paul Olson," the name he had assumed, when Assistant State's Attorney Olson entered the post office.

The assistant state's attorney walked over to the busy and unsuspecting fugitive.

"I am Olson. Sign your own name, Stensland," said the attorney.

Stensland was thunderstruck. He realized at once his flight had been futile. He made no attempt to conceal his identity, for he and the man who accused him were acquainted before he fled.

Stensland's agitation at his arrest subsided in a short time. He accompanied Mr. Olson to the United States legation, where he was held prisoner.

Assistant State's Attorney Barbour worked until ten p. m. Monday preparing legal forms necessary for the extradition of Stensland. Judge William L. Pond, of the De Kalb county court, sitting as county judge in Chicago, signed papers in the case. These were stamped with the seal of Cook county, certified, sworn to and bound. One copy of the papers will be filed in Springfield, another in Washington, and a third to be sent to Tangier by the messenger from the president, who will return as official custodian of the prisoner.

DEPOSITED IN THE UNITED STATES

IS THE PACT SIGNED BY THE CUBAN CONSPIRATORS.

Document Now Printed for the First Time Plots the Overthrow of Palma and His Party.

Havana, Sept. 5.—The most conservative testimony from the country districts of the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara is that two-thirds of the people in the country and small towns of the provinces are insurgents in sentiment if not in fact.

The managers of the insurrection have permitted the publication of a document purporting to have been found in an abandoned rebel camp, but which, it is reliably stated, was first issued in Havana, and the original of which is in a deposit vault in the United States, signed by prominent conspirators. The document gives the full program of the revolutionists' policy. It is in the form of an agreement and is dated Havana, July 26. With the signatures omitted the document is as follows:

"The undersigned, believing that it is imperatively necessary to re-establish the vigor of the constitution and laws, which are being systematically violated by those who control power against the will of the people, who were intimidated from the polls by force, resolved:

"To organize as a committee to direct and carry on all acts necessary to cast from those who have no right there. This movement is inspired by the fact, recognized by all, that the last elections were void. It is therefore imperative that the first step will be to declare vacant the offices of president, vice president and all civil governors of the six provinces and also of those senators, representatives and provincial councilmen who should have been elected last December.

Details of the Plot.

"When these offices shall have been vacated this movement, which serves no clique or personal ambition, but is solely caused by the necessity to restore the constitutional regime, will adjust itself to the precepts of the present code, to effect which, when those illegally occupying offices shall have been expelled, those senators elected in April, 1902, and those representatives elected in 1904 shall form a congress electing an ad interim president and vice president, who shall call elections for said offices and also for governors, senators, representatives and provincial councilmen.

"Mayors and councilmen who have been arbitrarily deposed by the executive shall return to their offices.

"Holding no revenge and only aiming to replace the Cuban people in possession of their rights, the directors of this movement pledge themselves to respect life and property equally of foreigners and natives, not to prosecute political opponents and to avoid bloodshed excepting to overcome the resistance of those defending the illegal government.

"We shall aim to make every effort to safeguard the national moneys, re-establish order and maintain that normality of affairs.

"The undersigned, as leaders of the movement, obligate themselves to respect the provisional government elected by congress as provided in Clause 3, and to co-operate with it in holding a fair and honest election.

"The undersigned solemnly pledge themselves not to cease their labors until they shall have restored constitutional rights to the country, and that they will resign their authority the moment the provisional government is formed. We declare that we do not favor any special candidate for any office, and that when the government is legally re-established, all Cubans shall have recourse for their ambitions in legitimate and peaceful methods."

THE ELITE JARRED.

Courtship and Marriage of Street Car
Conductor and Society Favorite.

Lexington, Ky.—The romantic courtship of Fowler Givens, a Lexington street car conductor, and Miss Mary Railey, daughter of Mrs. William Railey, of Versailles, Ky., surprises the elite of the Woodford county capital. The romance dates back more than a year ago, when young Givens was connected with the telegraph office in Versailles. It was continued when he returned to this city and secured a position as a knight of the bell cord. Miss Railey came to Lexington and was met by her lover. They repaired to the home of Justice Ben D. Bell, who performed the marriage ceremony. The bride is a daughter of the late William Railey, wealthy horseman, of Woodford county, and is reputed wealthy in her own right. A niece of C. L. The police arrested Harry Candiota, Ed Flynn, Coly Hayden and three others, who refused to give their names.

Both refused to enter the county almshouse, saying they preferred their dry goods box.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress
HON. HARVEY HELM,
Of Lincoln.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN says that the paramount issue at this time is the trusts. In 1896 it was the silver question and in 1900 imperialism. On the money question he spoke in part as follows: "Our opponents have derived not only partisan pleasure, but also partisan advantages from the division caused in our party by the money question. They ought not, therefore, begrudge us the satisfaction that we find in the fact that unexpected conditions have removed the cause of our differences and permitted us to present a united front on present issues. The unlooked-for and unprecedented increase in the production of gold had brought a victory to both the advocates of gold and the advocates of bimetallism—the former keeping the gold standard which they wanted and the latter securing the large volume of money for which they contended. We who favor bimetallism are satisfied with our victory if the friends of monometallism are satisfied with theirs. And we can invite them to a contest for zeal and endurance in the effort to restore to the people the rights which have been gradually taken from them by the trusts."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT authorized the announcement that the reform in spelling recommended by the committee which Andrew Carnegie created will hereafter be accepted in all departmental correspondence and official documents. To put it briefly, Uncle Sam is "hru" with "through" and the spelling of all words which gives the lie direct to the pronunciation. Henceforth all offish documents will hav a kweer luk.—Ex.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Hon. W. J. Bryan has decided to come to Louisville at noon, September 12, and remain over until the next morning. During the afternoon of that date an opportunity will be given Mr. Bryan's friends to meet him at one of the Louisville hotels.

Former Vice President Adlai E. Stevens is engaged in writing a book, the subject matter of which will be largely composed of sketches of public men, with whom he has come in contact. The pages will also contain the experiences of the writer during his early career as a lawyer.

The reception to William J. Bryan in Madison Square Garden New York last Friday night was such as has been rarely, if ever accorded to a private citizen in the history of the United States. The garden was packed with 20,000 people, and the streets and avenues outside were choked for blocks with other thousands who had gathered to see the distinguished Nebraskan Mr. Bryan upon his entry to the hall was cheered for eight minutes His address was preceded by speeches by Governor Folk, of Missouri; Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, and Augustus Thomas, of New York. Mr. Bryan's speech was more than one hour in duration, and touched largely on political issues.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF KENTUCKY:

You are cordially invited to attend a reception to be given by the Democracy of the "Solid South" in honor of the Home-coming of the nation's most illustrious private citizen, our party's chieftain, William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Bryan cabled home from Europe his acceptance of the South's invitation to be its honored guest at a reception in the great Armory building in Louisville, and since his return to America he has confirmed the selection of Wednesday, September 12th as the date of his appearance here. Many of the most distinguished Democratic leaders in the Southern States have signified their intention to attend this great gathering. The new Armory will comfortably seat 17,000 people, while 3,000 more can find standing room. This great building will likely be the scene of the next Democratic National Convention which will probably nominate Mr. Bryan for the Presidency. Mr. Bryan is expected to arrive in Louisville about noon, September 12th, and will be escorted to one of the largest hotels, where an informal reception will be held for the public. Several of the great orators of the South will make speeches at the Armory, beginning about 7:30 P. M. and Mr. Bryan will appear in the Hall about 8:00 P. M. The Armory doors will be open to the public about 8:00 P. M., no tickets being necessary to the main ground floor.

All railroads have granted a rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip to Louisville and return home from the reception.

Very truly,
JOHN W. VREELAND,
Chairman.

State Development Convention

WILL BE HELD IN WINCHESTER OCT. 10, 11, 12.

DELEGATES TO BE APPOINTED.

The Executive Committee of the State Development Association met in Louisville Monday and set Oct. 10, 11 and 12th, 1906, as the time of the Fifth State Development Convention at Winchester. Active preparations have been begun in Winchester for the convention and will be pushed from now until the meeting in October. It promises to be the largest and most important gathering of the year in the State. A plan for a permanent organization will be presented to the Convention for adoption, which it is believed will make the Association a stronger organization and give it greater power toward carrying on its objects.

Kentucky is far behind what it can be in its position as an industrial and commercial State, its resources having been neglected and its commercial and manufacturing advantages overlooked. The State Development movement was started by business men with the patriotic desire to see the State forge ahead and grow to be among the first of states in her industrial importance. During the four years of its existence, the Association has done much along the line of advocating needed commercial legislation, and the shaping of politics that have helped our manufacturing and our business interests.

Much of interest to the business people of the State will be discussed at the convention at Winchester, and plans mapped out for its work. Speakers of national reputation and specialists on particular subjects of agriculture, mining, manufacturing, etc., will address the Convention.

Delegates to the convention will be named by the County Judge of each county, Mayor of each city, and by each commercial club organization. Anyone who wishes to attend the Convention can be appointed a delegate direct upon application to the Secretary of the Convention. Last year at Louisville about 500 delegates were present, and some 90 counties of the State represented by business men of the county.

We hope that some of the most active and best business men of this county will go as delegates to the convention and will go prepared to thoroughly present our resources, industries, products, etc., and to be able to tell what we need in the way of industrial development and have to offer to investors and prospective citizens. These matters should be looked into and a carefully prepared statement made for use at the Convention.

Judge J. M. Benton, of Winchester, was elected Vice-Chairman of the Executive Committee, and P. J. Altizer, of Winchester, is Secretary of the Convention.

The claim against the United States government sent in by the First Presbyterian Church at Harrisburg will very likely be allowed within a short time. Malcomb A. Coles, attorney for the government before the U. S. Court of Claims in Washington, was in Harrisburg Monday and Tuesday looking into the claim. Several depositions were taken and it looks as if the church may get all or a greater part of its claim allowed. The claim of the church is for damages done to their building and for deprivation of its use during the war. At the time of the bloody battle of Perryville the church was forcibly taken by the commanding general and used as a hospital.

The seats were torn out, the windows broken, the walls defaced, the carpet ruined, the furnace destroyed and the building generally injured. It was held by the soldiers for about seven months, and the congregation was kept out of its use for something like a year. The actual damage figured up about $5,000, and $1,000 was added for depreciation of use. The claim was filed about 1893.

Judge J. M. Benton, of Winchester, was elected Vice-Chairman of the Executive Committee, and P. J. Altizer, of Winchester, is Secretary of the Convention.

A large number of circular letters have been sent out to the members of the Burial Association and the list will be completed this week. Read the circular carefully and there will be no reason for anyone to fail to understand the plan suggested for a reorganization. Some few have signed the blank attached and returned it accepting the plan suggested, but failed to remit the 25 cents. No application will be recorded, which is not accompanied by the amount of assessment, for such will only cause double work. Those who favor the plan, which has been offered will please respond at once, as it is very necessary that the promoters know what the members expect to do.

W. H. Pennington was held over to the grand jury by Judge Reed S. Nichols last Friday and his bond placed at $1,500 which he failed to give, and was sent to jail. It was proved in the examining trial that the signature attached to the letter received by George Chappell was that of Pennington. A little stir was caused in court circles when a report was circulated that Chappell expected to kill Pennington when brought into the court room. Mr. Chappell denied having any such intention, stating that he desired the law to take its course. Pennington has begun to eat a little after fasting for four or five days.—Boyle County Herald.

Atty. J. W. Brown and W. G. Nicely, with R. L. McFerron as Chairman, will compose the board of election commissioners for Rockcastle county for the coming election. A splendid selection for both parties and we can rest assured that the election officers appointed by these gentlemen will be honest, straightforward men.

Many telephone users in seeking a number ask useless questions. For instance, how much easier would it be for everybody if, when the subscriber got "central," he merely called for the number instead of putting his request into a long, time-taking question? Then when he is connected with his party, he should first announce his own name, and, if there is any doubt in his mind, courteously ask the party at the other end of the wire if this is so and so. Instead many subscribers hurl an impolite query at the person called to the telephone—"Who is that?" Nine out of ten persons resent this impolite courtesy, and the conversation begins under unfavorable conditions. The value of good manners at the receiver cannot be overestimated, and the saving of time is no more important often than the saving of temper to all concerned.

The special term of the Rockcastle circuit court convened Monday with Judge L. F. Johnson, of Frankfort as special judge. The following gentlemen were selected as jurors: J. M. Lear, Marshal Smith, W. H. Fish, R. A. Mobley, J. H. Reynolds, John C. Phillips, Joe Doan, W. A. Kinser, J. A. Wood, Shad Bullock, T. J. Hayes, P. H. Shutts, J. B. Farris, G. M. Up to Wednesday night only one little cases were tried, one of Alice Cook and Matilda Cook by their next friend Robert Cook, vs. William Stephens and Sarah Stephens for $69.25, for timber cut by the defendants on the plaintiff's land, resulting in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The other case was that of C. S. Johnson against Cowan McClung & Co. which was dismissed. From a stand-point of business transacted the special term is proving a failure so far, however we want to say it is not the Judge who is responsible but the attorneys, who are not ready for trial and have been asking continuances on almost every case called.

One case was tried yesterday, H. M. Mink vs L. & N. R. R. Co., $1,200 involved, judgement $250.

OLYMPIC THEATRE, CINCINNATI, A BIG SUCCESS.

The one big event of Cincinnati's Fall Festival was the opening last Sunday of the New Olympic Theatre. A more auspicious theatrical event has not been chronicled anywhere in this country and when it is taken into consideration that this beautiful modern playhouse is devoted to EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN GREATER VAUDEVILLE, it must be admitted that something extraordinary exists in this more fertile of amusement fields. Cincinnatians of every rank were there in force at every performance; the masses were interested, and toe banker and the preacher rubbed elbows with the street gamins. The toilets worn by the ladies in attendance at the first performance received unusual attention. The surrounding, the furnishings, the everything about the New Olympic is beyond description, likewise the unparalleled talent that Manager Cleveland presented. He promised the biggest and best entertainment ever seen in Cincinnati, and he kept his word.

The enormous crowds appreciated everything.

For week beginning matinee Sunday, September 9th, John W. Ransone will be seen in his latest and most lifelike impersonations of Wm. Jennings Bryan. The big novelty feature of course will be Ralph Johnstone, the Acrobatic Aerial Cylist that astounded New Yorkers all last season at the Hippodrome. Al Cohn's Pantomime Dogs, May Ward, the Daintiest Souurette in Vaudeville, and W. J. O'Hearn's big spectacular production "A Romance of Killarney," are all faces and features entirely new to Cincinnati. On the same bill is the Grand Opera Trio, Haley & Mechan, black face singers and dancers; all these together with Filson & Errol and several other big numbers will go to make up a program that will excel last week's bill.

When two strong men come to blows, even if they are well matched, it is not a pleasing sight, but if the man who gets the worst of it will use DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve, he will look better and feel better in short order. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Good for everything a salve is used for, including piles.

DEAFNESS CAN NOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the disease portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by a diseased condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, unless the inflation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition.
